Accounting of completed tasks, time spent on each. Sign up for free to take advantage of some functionality on your PC. The click count on this site is only one thing. We also use a wide variety of other ways to help us monitor our site statistics, as well as growth. One thing we haven't counted with is user type. One of the things we've been thinking about doing is creating interest groups based on your user type. In doing this, we'll get better at predicting your behavior on our site, and maybe even get some interesting data from you, which could be useful in the future. So, if you want to take part in this aspect, we have a very simple survey. All you need to do is visit the link below and fill it in. That will give us an idea of what type of user you are, and tell us whether or not we should create interest groups. The site isn't a high priority right now, but we will be looking into it, and starting some investigation soon. Do enjoy the site! If you have any questions, comments, or concerns, you can always contact us and we'll address them for you. You can message us on Facebook, send us an email, and even add questions, comments, concerns, and/or suggestions on the contact form at the bottom of the page. Enjoy your stay! As part of our ongoing effort to help you, we have thought about expanding our way of presenting the data we get from our site. We will be presenting it in a way that's more understandable, and less intimidating. That way, it will be easier to use, and for you to understand what we have to offer to you. We've decided that it makes more sense to present the data we get in a way that can be more easily analyzed and understood. To do this, we'll be presenting things in a more visual manner. So, if you've ever been interested in our site, and how it works, we hope you'll be
